

Curriculum Vitae

David Briggs, BHA (NSW), MHM(Hons) PhD (UNE) FCHSE, FCHKCHSE CHE is The Editor, Asia Pacific journal of Health Management, Fellow, Life Member and Past National President of the Australian College of Health Services (ACHSE); Founding Fellow of the Hong Kong College of Health Service Executives; Senior Lecturer and Coordinator, Health Management and Gerontology Programs, School of Health, Faculty of the Professions, University of New England and a Director of the North West Slopes (NSW) Division of General Practice. David is a senior advisor to the Faculty of the Centre of Expertise on Hospital and Health Services Management at Naresuan University in Thailand. David was awarded the Australian College of Health Services Gold Medal in 2004 for his services to the College and the Australian Health Services.

David has had extensive senior management experience in the public health sector, which includes as a CEO of large Area Health Service, General Manager of a District Health Service, CEO of a 300 bed acute regional referral hospital, as well as extensive experience in both rural and community health services and in the accreditation of both public and private health and aged care services. His consultancy, research and publications includes work in the health sector in the Asia Pacific as well as Australia

David has contributed to health management texts and co-edited a text on the financial management of health services and presented papers both at national and international conferences. David research interests include models of care in small rural communities, the organisation and management of health systems and the education and professional development of health managers both in Australia and in international contexts.